The best Song since 1840. We copy the following as the best political song which has appeared since the memorable campaign of 1840. It was sung on the 4th inst., at the Whig celebration in Philadelphia, and received with shouts of applause. It is said to have been written by an eminent literary gentleman of that city: - [Harrisburg Tel.

HURRAH FOR THE CLAY. A HEALTH to the Farmer, who follows the plough And earns independence by sweat of the brow He sings, as he turns the rich soil to the day, 'How happy's the farmer who lives by the Clay.'
Hurrah for the Clay, hurrah for the Clay,
How happy's the farmer who lives by the Clay!

CHORUS.

Hurrah for the Clay, hurrah for the Clay,
How happyl's the farmer who lives by the Clay The Brickmaker places his forms in the sun, To harden them well when his moulding is done; Then fires them boldly, not fearing that they Will crack in the kiln, for he trusts to his Clay. Trusta to the Clay! trusts to the Clay! It stands every trial, the well-tempered Clay! Hurrah for the Clay, hurrah for the Clay. It stands every trial, the well-tempered Clay The Potter is careful in choosing his stuff.
And works it to make it both plastic and tough;
And sings, as he fashions his ware on the tray,
We'd all go to pot if it were not for Clay.
If it were not for Clay, if it were not for Clay,
We'd all go to pot if it were not for Clay.

Hurrah for the Clay! hurrah for the Clay! We'd all go to pot if it were not for Clay. The Dyer, good fellow, the ladies to please, Takes Clay for a mordent and Clay for the grease, And proud of his colors so true and so gay.

Sings, 'Boys, as we live let us dye by the Clay.'

'Dye by the Clay, dye by the Clay.'

Who would u't be willing to die by the Clay.' Hurrah for the Clay! hurrah for the Clay! Who would n't be willing to die by the Clay? The Ditcher, who works in the mud and the sand, Is cheated by slides of the treacherous land;
And cries in despair, as the work breaks away,
It would n't be so, if I trusted to Clay!

'Trusted to Clay! trusted to Clay!
It would u't be so if I trusted to Clay.' Hurrah for the Clay! harrah for the Clay! It would n't be so if we'd trusted to Clay! The toil-wearied Cotter, at evening, at home, Though soiled are his hands and his jacket with loam, is happy to see his sweet children at play, And smiles at their bliss, for he earned it by Clay. Earned it by Clay! earned it by Clay He smiles at their bliss, for he earned it by Clay. Hurrah for the Clay! hurrah for the Clay!

Let's follow the Cotter and ' work in ' the Clay! When winter-winds howl round the Clay-plastered cot, And ven'son is smoking, and hominy hot,
The Woodman exults that the tempest's at bay,
And he laughs at the storm, for he 's sheltered by Clay.
Sheltered by Clay! sheltered by Clay. He laughs at the storm, for he's sheltered by Clay. Harrah for the Clay! hurrah for the Clay! We'll laugh at the storms when we're sheltered by Clay

The Cabin of State to its ruin runs fast, t lets in the snow-drift, the rain and the blast Its furniture's rotten, its timbers decay, And nothing can save it but filling with Clay! Filling with Clay, filling with Clay, And nothing can save it but filling with Clay. Hurrah for the Clay! hurrah for the Clay! There's nothing can save it but filling with Clay The world over, Boys, there is Clay that is good,

For building of cabins and raising of food;

But for work such as ours let me tell you the best is CLAY OF KENTUCKY—THE CLAY OF THE WEST. Ciay of the West, Clay of the West, There's nothing for as like the Clay of the West. Hurrah for the Clay! hurrah for the Clay! There's nothing for us like the Kentucky Clay. Come join, then, my hearties, each son of the land, And citizen stranger, hand linked into hand, United and earnest, we'll carry the day, And rescue the land by top-dressing with Clay. Topping with Clay, topping with Clay, We 'll rescue the land by top-dressing with Clay

Hurrah for the Clay! hurrah for the Clay! We'll rescue the land by top-dressing with Clay. Nine cheers for great Harry, whese honor won't bend, Who never turned back on a foe or a friend, Who works for his country by night and by day, The country will thank him by working for Clay.

Working for Clay, working for Clay. The country will thank him by working for Clay. Hurrah for the Clay! hurrah for the Clay! The country will thank him by working for Clay.

Prospects of the U. States. In 1840 the United States had a population of 17.068.666. Allowing its future increase to be period of ten years, we shall number, in 1940, 303,101,641. Past experience warrants us to expect this great increase. In 1790, our number was 3,927,827. Supposing it to have increased each decade, in the ratio of 33½ per cent., it would, in 1840, have amounted to 16, 560,256; being more than half a million less than our actual number, as shown by the census.

With 300,000,000, we should have less than 150 to the square mile for our whole territory, and to the square mile for our whole territory, and the square mile for our whole territory. ber was 3,927,827. Supposing it to have inbut 220 to the square mile for our organized states and territories. England has 300 to the square mile. It does not, then, seem probable that our progressive increase will be materially checked within the one hundred years under consideration. At the end of that period Canada will probably number at least 20,000,000. If we suppose the portion of our country east and west of the Appalachian chain of mountains, known as the Atlantic slope, to possess at that time 40,000,000, or near five times its present number, there will be left 260,000,000 for the great central region between the Appalachian and Rocky mountains, and between the Gulf of Mexico and Canada, and for the country west of the Rocky mountains. Allowing the Oregon Territory 10,000,000, there will be left 250,000,000 Friday, 7th April. for that portion of the American States lying in the basins of the Mobile, Mississippi and St. Lawrence. If to these we add 20,000,000 for Canada, we have 270,000,000 as the probable number that will inhabit the North American valley at the end of the one hundred years, commencing in 1840. If we suppose one-third, or 90,000,000 of this number to reside in the country as cultivators and artisans, there will be 180,-050,000 left for the towns, enough to people 360, each containing half a million. This does not seem as incredible as that the valley of the Nile. scarcely 12 miles broad, should have once, as historians tell us, contained 20,000 cities. . But, lest one hundred years seem too long to be relied on, in a calculation having so many elements, let us see how matters will stand fifty years from 1840, or forty-seven years from this time. The ratio of increase we have adopted cannot be objected to as extravagant for this period. In 1890, according to that ratio, our number will be 72,000,000. Of these, 22 000,000 will be a fair allowance for the Atlantic slope.-Of the remaining 50,000,000, 2,000,000 may reside west of the Rocky mountains, leaving 48,-000,000 for the great valley within the States .-If to these we add 5,000,000 as the population of Canada, we have an aggregate of 53,000,000 for the North American valley. One-third, or say 18,000,000, being set down as farming laborers and rural artisans, there will remain 35,000,000 for the towns, which might be seventy in number, having each half a million of souls. It can scarcely be doubted that, within the forty-seven At 1, 4 and 6 ON S years, our agriculture will be so improved, as to require less than one-third to furnish food and raw materials for manufacture for the whole popalation. Good judges have said that we are not now more than twenty or thirty years behind England in our husbandry. It is certain that we are rapidly adopting her improvements in this branch of industry; and it is not to be doubted. that very many new improvements will be brought out, both in Europe and America, which will tend to lessen the labor necessary in the production of food and raw materials.

BOTANY AT A DISCOUNT .-- When the great American Aloe, belonging to Mr. Van Rennsselaer, of Albany, having been in this city on exhition, was on its way up the river, under the care of the gardener, or keeper, a gentleman struck with the beauty of the plant, made many inquiries regarding it. In the course of the passage, the inquirer remarked: "This plant belongs to the Cactus family, does it not, sir?" "No, sir, it belongs to the Van Rensselaer family!" was the reply of the straight forward attendant.

WASHINGTON ELIXIR-A sure and lasting

WASHINGTON ELIXIR—A sure and lasting cure for the Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Diarrhead Summer Complaint and Bilious Cholic. The above remedy is now offered with confidence by the Proprietor's Agent, E. M. GUION, 127 Bowery, corner of Grand-street, and corner of Third Avenue and Fourteenth-street. For avidence of its virtues read the following: Extract of a latter from G. W. Allerton, Esq., Alderman of the Twelfith Ward: "I pur chased some or your Elixir and triod it on an old mon in my employ, who had used all other remedies without effect; he had become so very weak that he could scarce rise from his bed. I gave him the Elixir, and it was astonishing to see the good effects on the old man; it revived him immediately, and in three days, with being a little weak, he was able to do his ordinary work. My family, after the old man had been so soon reheved, used the Elixir also, and were in each case effectually restored to health.

fectually restored to health.

"I have in a severe attack of Dysentery in my family checked it in using one dose of the Elixir,

"A poor woman in my vicinity who had tried all the usual remedies without effect for Fever and Agne of five months' standing, was instantly relieved after using about a wine-glass full of the Elixir, and has not been troubled with the Agustine."

Extract of a letter from J. Campbell, 3r.:

"New-York, April 4, 1813.

"I have used the Washington Elivir in several cases of Diarrhoxa in my family the nast year, with immediate relief is every case. Thave no hesitation in recommending the Elivir as a safe and effections remedy in similar attacks." Pice $1 New-York, April 27, 1813.

as a safe and efficacious remedy in similar attacks." Price $1.

E. M. GUTON: Dear Sir--You will please to inform the public that I have used the Washington Elixir for a severe attack of Diarrhoar about six months since, and was cured with one dose in less than an hour. I have not had it since. I also used it in a case of my daughter, who was very severely attacked, and one dose cured her in less than an hour, and she has never had it since: the last in about four months since.

The following persons as 3d "BRANT'S INDIAN PURIFYING EXTRACT."

Dear Sir: Agreeable to your request, I hard you the following statements of facts in relation to my disorder and present health.

About four years ago I was very severely attacked with ERVSIPELAS in both my legs; they were inflamed from just below the knees to the feet; they awelled to a credigious site, and for nearly a year were naw like a piece of fresh meat. They continued, after the inflammation was somewhat subdued and the rawness abated, to be intensely hot, and were of dark red or purpleish color; large ulcers would come into them, which would break every few days and discharge a watery humor, sometimes in quantity from half a pint to a pint aday, and leave holes in the legs, where some of the ulcers were large enough, apparently to put a furger in. I have been obliged to keep them bandaged, in order to keep them from awelling, for about two years. I have employed several skilful physiciaus, who have prescribed for me, and all of them, after prescriber for me without beneficial effects, have told me that nothing would ever help me. I applied to a French Doctor who advertised to cure all diseases of the skin; he enumined one of my legs, and shook his head, saying, "My dear sir, I can do nothing to help you; those legs will run you of some of these days." Thus I was situated when I began to take "Baayt's ISDIAN PURIFYING EXTRACT." When I commenced taking the Purifying Extract. I had but little hope that it would, be of any benefit, as I had employed so many differentphysicians and taken so many remedies without beneficial results; but had not taken the Purifying Extract. That but hendered the results had always annoyed me, began to subside, and, after a few days more, those sensations were no longer felt. The inflammation became less and less daily; so much so, that now I am enabled to take off the bandages w hich I have been obliged to wear for about two years past. The elects have all healed up, and lave not burst open or discharged any si

Thave also been afflicted with rheumatism for about thirty years, and it has constantly, during that time, been in my oints; so much so, as to keep them weak, painful ard sere; but since I commenced taking the Purifying Entruct, there not been troubled with it in the least; and my joints are now is free from it, or the effects of it, as they were whe I was a year.
